Cyber Monday is here!

Numismagram Newsletter #161 (XII/2025)

As we wrap up the extended Thanksgiving weekend and enter into December, we find ourselves at “Cyber Monday,” a day that has brought with it a focus upon online buying and associated discounts for a number of years now. We’re nearly finished with the leftovers from the vegetarian spread above, but this first upload for December will present a feast for your eyes in the form of 12 new medals. And regarding Cyber Monday, similar to last year, we have an active coupon code for most of the items on our site. Outside of the 12 added today and those added during November 2025, all other items are eligible for this promo of 15% off. In order to take advantage of these savings, just enter the coupon code CYBERMONDAY2025 in the coupon code window upon checkout, and the 15% savings will be applied to the applicable items from their current prices. This coupon code will remain active for the entire week, running through this Friday. If you’ve had your eye on something in our inventory, now is a great time to take advantage of these savings! You can tell if an item is eligible or not based upon its upload date at the bottom of the description. If it isn't from today or last month, it's good to go for 15% off!
